In an examination of the returns, it will be seen that the whig vote is some increased, although the Representatives from this county are all of the administration stripe, the vote of the County gives every promise that the whigs are alive to their own interests and are bravely standing up to the question and will undoubtedly succeed in the elections.—

GOVERNOR'S ELECTION.

We have no certain returns from our adjoining Counties, as to the result of the vote for Governor; but from all accounts of gentlemen of intelligence from various sections of North Mississippi, the Whigs have every prospect of success. So far as we are enabled to learn, the present Governor's vote is a portion of the State, will fall short of a Democratic triumph in North Mississippi some two thousand votes, and that

NASHVILLE, 24th Oct., 1839.

Messrs. Geo. A. Wilson and others—

GENTLEMEN.—I have the pleasure of acknowledging your note of the 18th inst., inviting me to partake of a public dinner to be given on the first of next month, by the whigs of Marshall County in honor of their late Representative in Congress, the Hon. S. S. Prentiss.

There are but few among our Statesmen born to such youthful fame and admiration as your talented and distinguished guest, and none whose bold and independent public career can more richly challenge the just applause of his country: nor is he indebted to his talents alone, great and unrivalled as they are, for the enviable reputation he has obtained both at home and abroad.

In the absence of other ennobling and necessary endowments, the richness of intellect, the powers of imagination, and all the captivating influences of wit and genius, are not unfrequently valueless to their gifted possessor, or hurtful and mischievous to mankind and the world. To be useful and beneficial they must partake freely of rarer virtues. A successful public man must be more than talented—he must be generous—he must be faithful, firm, and brave—faithful to his country against the seductions of office, firm of purpose, and brave in execution. To award all these qualifications to your honored fellow citizen, is but to repeat his common praise, and to reassert the united verdict of the just and impartial of all parties. The proud display you propose to give him, is therefore as worthy of the man, as he is eminently and singularly worthy of the confidence and affection which bestow it; and I regret exceedingly that it will not be in my power to witness the "flow of soul" which the happy occasion cannot fail to inspire.

Nevertheless, Gentlemen, unalterably devoted as I am to the principles which constitute the creed of our party, and resolved for good or for evil to "sink or swim" in the faith, I shall be present with you in heart and in spirit; and I would now cheer you onward in your patriotic labors. Your Whig brethren of Tennessee are fast recovering from the shock of a late unfortunate but indecisive defeat. They rise "like Antaeus

The Whigs of 1839 & 40, sustaining the great principles earned the Whigs of 76, etc. the exercise of unauthorised such a cause, though it may years of political warfare, successually crown their efforts.

With great respect,
 Gentlemen truly
 GEO. S.
