

Her voice is echoed by the desert rock—
 For her, the Asp withholds the sting of death,
 And bares his fangs, but to inhale her breath—
 The royal lion leaves his desert fair,
 And, couching, listens when she treads the air—
 And man, by wilder impulse driven to ill,
 Is tamed, and led by this enchantress still.
 Who ne'er has felt her hand assuasive steal
 Along his heart—that heart will never feel."

Gen. DUFF GREEN's paper is called the "PILOT." It is issued in the city of Baltimore, and advocates the election of Gen. Harrison and John Tyler for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the U. S.

VAN BUREN vs. McNUTT.—These worthies are at issue in reference to the great matter of sustaining state credit. Mr Jones of Virginia, the Van Buren Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, appealed to the House to authorize the issue of more Treasury Notes, declaring that the faith of the Government ought to be preserved and maintained at all hazards, a doctrine totally different from that preached by the great Pope of the party in this State, A. G. McNutt. Here is certainly a schism in the church, unless it be a part of the locofoco system, to preach up protection of the public faith when they want to create a debt, and preach it down after the debt has been created. Does not the Governor begin to think that "Higgins" is sometimes "hurried" a little too fast?
[Natchez Courier.]

We see that some of the Van Buren papers are still harping on that stale slander, of the "flannel petticoat." We had supposed, after the author of the story had been branded as a liar and coward that no gentleman would have been willing to endorse it, or assisted to keep it longer in circulation.
