Children Free Tuesday, Oct. 14, at Corinth Fair

One of the pleasing things about the 1930 exhibition of the Miss.-Tenn. Fair which will be held at Corinth, Miss., October 13-18, is that the children will be admitted free of charge on Tuesday, October 14. Secretary M. R. Striplin states that many children are staunch friends of the fair and this concession was made in view of the friendship exhibited toward the organization by the youngsters of this section.

The things which will perhaps attract the most attention from the children, aside from the shows and rides on the Midway, will be the excellent show to be put on by the members of the 4-H clubs of this section. This show promises to be the best ever staged by the boys and girls. Preparations have been under way for the big fair and indications are that one of the best shows ever staged here will be placed before the fair-going public when the gates to the biggest and best fair swing open on Monday, October 13.
