IUKAN RECEIVES COVETED MEDAL

Lieutenant With Gen. MacArthur In Southwest Pacific

Second Lieut. Oscar H. Graham of Iuka, has just been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross by Lieut. General George C. Kennedy, Commander of the Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific. This medal was awarded "for extraordinary achievement" while participating in 200 hours of operational flight missions in the Southwest Pacific area during which hostile contact was probable and expected. These operations included bombing missions against enemy airdromes and installations and attacks on hostile naval vessels and shipping. Throughout these operations the citation stated, Lieut. Graham demonstrated outstanding ability, courage and devotion to duty. He is on active duty with a bombardment squadron on the Fifth Air Force, which is playing a major role in Gen. MacArthur's offensive against the Japanese in the South and Southwest Pacific. Lieut. Graham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Graham of Iuka.

INDUCTION POLICY DURING THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS

The induction of selective servicemen will be suspended on December 24, 25 and 26, 1943, and January 1 and 2, 1944. In addition, no men will report to reception centers of the Army on those dates. The Navy will grant those 8 days to those inducted November 17 and December 18; 10 days to those inducted December 17; and 11 days to those inducted December 23.

This procedure will permit those men inducted to spend the holiday with their families. Colonel Long, state director, stated that this policy of the Army and the Navy would be a great assistance to all concerned, particularly pre-Pearl Harbor fathers who are being inducted throughout the nation on these dates.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper Ray of Iuka have just received word that their son S/Sgt John H. Ray, Jr., is stationed in England. Sgt. Ray is Aerial Engineer on a B-24, and states that he is well and happy, though it takes two dollars of our money to buy one dollar's worth of English merchandise.

V-5 RERUIREMENT STANDARD LOWERED

The Navy's Recruiting Service, taking to the air this week under its Flight Training school program for young boys, offered a "winter bargain" to 17, as well as 18-year old high school seniors. Thousands more became eligible to enter V-5 Naval Aviation, under the new ruling. The V-5 program was hitherto limited to 17 year old seniors who would graduate by March 1, 1944. Seniors of both age groups may enlist at once, Navy recruiters for this area disclosed, although they will not be called until after graduation. Before entering flight training additional civitan schooling will be allowed enlistees for at least eight months with a V-12 unit at some university. Seventeen and 18 year olds may apply at Navy recruiting stations for preliminary examinations. Selective Service induction for the later age group will be effected.

Pvt. Audie B. Marlar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kim Marlar, of Burnsville, and Miss Caresta Jane Halleman of Jackson, Miss, were married Saturday, November 20th, by the Rev. R.E. Pate. Pfc. Marlar was a former Highway Patrolman, with the Mississippi Highway Patrol and Mrs. Marlar was a nurse at the Jackson Infirmary.

Pvt. Sam V. Rhodes of Junction City, Kansas, is ill at the Army Hospital at Ft. Riley, Kansas. His wife the former Violet Clayton, spent last week end at the hospital with Pvt. Rhodes.

FROM A SOLDIER

I know you're very busy tonight,
With little time to spare --
But, I also know you wonder
About that fellow over there.
You're probably in defense work
And daily do your chores;
To help us end forever,
These bloody vicious wars.
But you'll add to your effort
In the winning of this flight --
If you'll just take a pen in hand
And write that "Boy" tonight.

METHODIST NEWS AND OTHER ITEMS

E.G. Mohler, Pastor

Paid for by Uncle Sam, your Red Cross delivers weekly to each of our soldiers in enemy prisons 11 pounds of good food. The Red Cross flag is allowed to enter these prisons. The stars and stripes cannot at this time. "Old Glory" will eventually open these prisons and set our prisoners free. God hasten the day and let us help God with our prayers and means.

With our World Services offering, made on the fourth Sunday in each of our churches, we not only are aiming to set the bodies of men free but with our offering we are ministering to the many needs of suffering humanity--physical, mental and spiritual. Millions of God's children the world over are suffering today because of man-made conditions and neglect. The World Service Program of your church is one answer to human suffering.

If we are to build a new or lasting peace we must build upon Christian fundamentals.... There is no other way, world based or human based can endure.

Holy Communion Sunday. Try to be present at each service of your church. If your pew is vacant, no one can take your place. The Christian religion is personal. We must stand alone with Christ before we can stand with others.

HIGHWAY EMPLOYEES GO TO WAR

In spite of the fact that the construction and maintenance of highways has been declared by the War Manpower Commission as essential, approximately 300 highway employees have enlisted with the armed forces and are today fighting the battle for democracy on every battle front of the world. The Chief Engineer, Mr. R.A. Harris, the Construction Engineer, Mr. E.B. Cavallo, and many others who were for many years connected with the Highway Department have volunteered their services in various branches of the armed forces.

The fact that highway maintenance and construction has been declared essential to the war effort is indicative of the emphasis that is placed by the officials in Washington in keeping the highways open to military traffic.

The State Selective Service Commission, acting in conjunction with Washington authorities, has submitted to the State Highway Dept. a replacement schedule which has have executed and retired to the State Selective Service Commission with all others organizations and industries which have been declared to be essential to the war effort.

The Highway Department now has only approximately 750 regular salaried employees. Of this number, 223 are eligible for selective service. It would readily be seen from this that if this entire group of eligibles was selected at one time or within a period of two or three months, it would greatly handicap the functions of the Highway Department.

DESTROY OLD PRESCRIPTIONS

Statement of State Health Officer

If your old medicine cabinet contains a collection of drugs prescribed by a physician for an illness now past, it is the part of the economy and safe practice to throw those half-full bottles away. A prescription is a written order for the prescription for the treatment of a specific disease in a specific person. Thus its repeated use for subsequent ailments or for other people constitutes a misuse. The reasons for this are obvious. Two diseases causing similar symptoms may be entirely different. Other drugs may act differently in different people. Dorage [Dosage] is affected by age, body weight, and sex. And most important of all, anyone who is sick enough for medicine is sick enough to have a physician. The only proper use for a prescription is when it is administered by the physician. When it has served its original purpose, the bottle of medicine should be discarded.

TEA TABLE CHATTER

by Tina

Thanksgiving was much more than just a good dinner with the proverbial bird, for many families in Iuka this year, what with so many of our boys home, many of them coming in as a complete surprise, as did Berry Lee Pruitt, in a week from Ft. Eustis, Va. Berry Lee looked wonderful with twenty five pounds scattered over his fine frame. G.T. Carmichael came in over the week end and his wife was here to meet him, where they spent several days this week with the Lucien Carmichaels. Leon Phillips was smiling contentedly, with a fifteen day extension added to his leave and his mother, Mrs. N.L. Phillips is much improved. Lloyd Storment was transferred from Danville, Ill., to way out in Wyoming, but found a nice furlough awaiting him there, so he is giving his family and the town a thrill in his fine appearance. John Allen is at home recuperating from a minor operation, and the J.H. Allens and all the kin are making the most of his visit. Dick McRee arrived Friday and he has received his rating as 2nd Lieutenant from Camp Davis, where he has been stationed for several months. Tina's heart was full through out last week, with the Kansas City brother Walter Cross, were since Sunday, spending the week, with the Kansas City brother Walter Cross, were since Sunday, spending the week in quiet visiting both of us digging down in our childhood memories for many hearty laughs, some of them touched with the poignancy of parents now gone, and many other childhood events. He entered the Navy Monday as Petty Officer first class in a new branch for Craftsmen, and Tina finds herself closer to this war than heretofore.

The Jack Roane home was alive with merriment and happiness during the holidays with Daisy (Mrs. Fred) Lickford, Jr., and her two children from Grenada up for two days and the Hal Andersons and the Hal Anderson's Jr., also spending Thanksgiving with them. Sara Hill (whom Tina had not met before) spent the holidays here and Tina found her bubbling over with keen wit and personality that made a little two table bridge at Miriam Gaines on Friday night. On Friday night Mary Lee Yates had about a dozen guests at a dinner party honoring Leon Phillips and the news is that the food was something to get poetical about. The feature of Miriam's party were the unusual tallies from Mexico, with "real" little song birds on them all feathered out, and even little bright eyes to make them seem ready to take wing any moment. However, none of these quite equaled the new baby Ben Mac, who, contrary to all past beliefs, did exactly what his parents wanted him to, in entertaining the guests, cooing and laughing in turn and evidently making the most of being the center of attraction. The Webster Prices entertained about fourteen guests on Thanksgiving night with a buffet supper at seven, and the fortunate ones are still talking of the party--food that was beautiful and more than ample, and hospitality that gave everyone attending a warm and comfortable feeling. "Webb" was a gracious host, being very attentive to guests, and Mary with her bubbling Irish nature made "breaking the ice" unnecessary.

Parties filled the whole of last week, with Margaret Hobston entertaining on Monday night, and Wednesday afternoon. Annie Mae McCulley with her Club on Tuesday afternoon with a few invited guests; The Thursday Club met with Louise Johnston on Thursday, and Dorothy Smith <text is missing>. <Text is missing> eternal thoughtfulness of their friends has sent Tina a new and amazing book, "You Cant Go Home Again" by Thomas Wolfe, and within a short reading, Tina feels that this writer has used all the descriptive phrases there are, and that there isn't any use another writer trying, he is sure to repeat Mr. Wolfe. Minnie even sent the book for Tina to read before she read it, which is a measure of affection.

Mississippi needs a chamber of commerce to publicize its climate---a few of us would complain of the weather we have had thus far this winter---brisk, but clear with lots of bright sunshine, and little wind, and there isn't much more we could ask for.

Ann Finch had an exciting week end preceding Thanksgiving, when she ran up to Memphis, spent Thursday night with Jo Allen Jackson, then the two girls went over to Sewanee, for a week end of dancing and fun, as guests of James Harry Graham and his room-mate. "Sis" and "Ike" Jackson had more fun on last Monday night, when they had about twenty one men in for a "Chitlin" supper, only there was much more than that! Tina hears that every kind of delicious fresh killed meat was on the table, and trimmings to, perfect it as Sis knows how to do. The lovely mantle decoration Jimmie Finch used when entertaining the Thursday Club on Friday needs a mention -- blue conuocias, with silver starts placed at each end and beautiful fruit piling out of them, gave the richest color scheme, and set the whole room off. Jimmie always has the trickiest little surprises in her refreshments and invariably has to give some one a recipe, or directions for doing some of them--which is a mark of success for any hostess. Mrs. L.C. Paden spent several days last week in the Baptist Hospital in Memphis for observation and treatment, and is back home now, where her friends can call. She was accompanied by Adelaide Price who stayed over to bring her home. Folks do read the paper, for many Memphis friends saw her name listed in the hospital news and called on her while there. Dinner at Mrs. Whitten's was particularly nice on Thanksgiving, and the singing of hymns of Thanksgiving before and after dinner did a large measure, make us conscious of our dependence on God's bounty for our every need.

Iukians were delighted with the Methodist Conference for sending Brother and Mrs. Mohler back for another year. Pleasing comment was heard all over town, not only by his own people, but from every other denomination, by people who have learned to love this fine Christian couple--even outside of their church duties, they are wrapped up in community affairs that make them of inestimable value to the whole country.
